Plans For War Memorial Building Get Under Way At Special Meeting Called By Daly City Fire Department

The special meeting called by the Daly City Fire department, held at the City hall on Wednesday evening, August 29, for the purpose of making plans for a War Memorial building, was very well attended by all local organizations.

A. J. Bodien opened the meeting with an inspiring talk on the needs of Daly City for a meeting place for organizations and public functions.

L. Chess stated that he had been working on a memorial building project for the past 15 years, but his interest had become intensified in the last five years, due to the cooperation of the San Mateo County Planning Commission to provide funds to proceed with the project in which the majority of the organizations were interested. The San Mateo County Planning Commission has instigated plans for five memorial buildings in the county. Daly City is to receive $75,000; South San Francisco, $75,000; Redwood City, $90,000; Coast, $10,000 and the Three Cities, $250,000.

Mr. Mitchell, architect for the San Mateo County Planning Commission, was present and highly commended the idea of getting the citizens group interested and starting the ball rolling without delay.

At the close of the enthusiastic talks by A. J. Bodien, L. Chess and Mr. Mitchell a motion was made and seconded that the organization be formed immediately and nominations of officers and committees were as follows:

A. Sundstrom, Veteran Firemen's association, was nominated and elected chairman and T. P. Tallon, Daly City Fire department was nominated secretary.

Report Twelve $100 Bills Missing From D. C. Home

It doesn't pay to hide valuables and money in your home, as Joseph Rotar, 529 Niantic avenue learned to his sorrow.

Thursday, August 30, Joseph Rotar and his sister Mrs. Howard R. Mattson reported that $1200 all in $100 bills had been hidden behind the refrigerator several days previously in the presence of Howard R. Mattson. The money disappeared and so did Mattson.

Various places at which he might be staying were checked, but to no avail. A teletype message was sent out by the sheriff's office in the hopes of locating Mattson.

OPA Office In South City Will Close September 30

The South San Francisco Office of Price Administration will be closed after September 30. However, from now until that date, the office will not be open on Saturdays, as all Federal employees are now on a 40-hour week.

After September 30, under the proposed new program, Burlingame's board will handle all rationing for the areas now served by the South San Francisco board.

Price controls for the entire county will be handled in Redwood City.

County Blood Bank In Need of Donors For Servicemen

An emergency call for volunteer blood donors was issued today so that wounded servicemen at Oak Knoll Navy hospital in Oakland may secure necessary blood transfusions.

The Peninsula branch of the Red Cross has turned over its blood donor list to the county blood bank. Men and women on this list are now being contacted by members of the blood bank staff and are being appraised of the increased need for support of the blood donor service here.

San Mateo County's blood bank is now being called on for whole blood and plasma from hospitals as far south as Bakersfield, from bay localities, from San Jose, Watsonville and Santa Cruz.

The general public is asked to respond to the appeal by telephoning San Mateo 3-1424 and making an appointment as a blood donor.

Grand Officer To Visit Druids

Hillcrest Circle No. 143, UAOD, will receive the official visit of Grand Arch Druidess Mrs. Dora Meyers and her staff of grand officers, Monday, September 24.

The meeting will be held in the Masonic temple, Mission street and Hillcrest drive at 8 p. m.

Rent Controls Are Still In Effect Says OPA Head

That the Japanese surrender has resulted in scores of inquiries by worried tenants who fear the elimination of rent controls in this area, was disclosed today by Henry A. Cross, San Francisco District rent executive.

Cross' reassurance that OPA rent controls are in full effect was aimed specifically at returning veterans and thousands of tenant war-workers who are tightening their belts as a result of cutbacks to normal 40-hour work weeks.

"Discharged veterans attempting to re-establish themselves are in no position to battle inflationary living costs," Cross pointed out. "Industrial employees and government workers whose wartime take-home checks included double or time and a half pay for overtime are adjusting family budgets to conform with new 40-hour salaries. They are discovering that the amount spent for rent represents a far greater portion of their pay than before."

The District rent executive stated that tenants seeking rent control information since war's end are "greatly relieved to learn that OPA rent regulations have not been relaxed; that they are still protected from sky-rocketing rent inflation which heavy demand and pressure groups would surely force if the controls were lifted at this time."

Cross said that all available information indicates little prospect of an early lessening of housing demands in this area.

Drivers Urged To Cooperate With Safety Patrols

With the opening of schools during September, the protective activities of the School Safety Patrols will be resumed, it is announced by the California State Automobile Association. Patrol members are prepared and equipped to resume their duties on the opening day, and the patrols are anxious to maintain their high standards of accident prevention, established during a 20 year period.

Full cooperation of the public with the safety patrols is urged by police and school authorities. Motorists are particularly urged to drive cautiously when approaching schools located on or near open highways, outside of incorporated areas; and to at all times obey the signals of the patrol, asking for safe passage of a group of children assembled for a crossing. As in past years, the children will be assembled in groups, by the patrol members, and held until the crossing can be undertaken safely.

Four Local Men Inducted Into Army

Daly City men inducted into the Army from Daly City Draft Board No. 103, August 29, included Stephen Handie, 45 San Pedro avenue; Vincent J. Marsili, 38 San Pedro avenue; James Meidl, 369 San Mateo avenue and Lawrence Stanford, 201 Miriam street. Donald Francis Welsh, 553 Hanover street volunteered for the Marine Corps.

FACULTY AT JEFF HI FOR START OF TERM TO NUMBER THIRTY-ONE

A faculty of 31 has been selected for the coming school year at Jefferson Union High school. The following is a list of the teachers and classes as reported by the district superintendent's office:

Mrs. Effie Andersen is returning after a year's leave of absence. She will continue to teach the classes in art and will also serve as girls' counsellor.

Mrs. Catherine Andrews, who taught at Lodi High school last year, comes to Jefferson. Here she will teach history and English.

Truman Bentley will again teach the woodworking classes and serve as attendance officer.

Mrs. Nona Cantwell will teach home economics. This year the courses taught by Mrs. Cantwell will be taught under the Smith-Hughes program, which includes the carrying on of certain home projects by each girl in the class.

Miss Dorothy Crowe will devote her full time to teaching of chemistry, physics, general science and algebra.

Claude Hackley, one of the veterans of the faculty, has the auto mechanics. Part of this work is on the trade basis under the Smith-Hughes program, while other classes are known as industrial arts classes.

Adolph Hansen will teach English and public speaking and Miss Elizabeth Jones continues as manager of the cafeteria and teacher of clothing.

Miss Jane Jones is a new member of the faculty whose work will be in the field of mathematics. Winifred Kaiser returns to teach business training, commercial geography and advanced typing.

Miss Beth Learned, Mrs. Bessie Schettler and Miss Barbara Schmidt continue in the English department carrying about the same classes as they taught last year. Miss Mary Nelson, who taught at Woodland last year, will be a new member of the English department.

John McCarthy will again be the music teacher and Howard Miguel will teach Spanish and French, Spanish-American history and will direct the dance band.

The physical education department includes Miss Ella Redkey, Miss Claire Nace, Elman Rose and a newcomer to the faculty, Frank Kamm.

Miss Eunice Philbrick continues in biology and Mrs. Marjorie Reandeau in bookkeeping, typing and duplicating. Mrs. Reandeau also serves as bookkeeper for the student body and miscellaneous cash accounts.

Clive Saiz, another veteran of the faculty, continues as adviser for student activities and assemblies. He teaches United States history, sociology and economics.

Miss Dorothy Smith returns to teach advanced typing and stenography.

Mrs. Elda Van Note will have the classes in Italian, Spanish and beginning Latin.

Howard Rote will again handle the classes in ceramics, crafts and photography.

The faculty is completed with three new teachers, Victor Binsacca, who will carry the work in mechanical drawing and also serve as assistant coach; Mrs. Hazel Huber Smith, with classes in algebra, general mathematics and vocations; and Miss Berna Sutton, school librarian.

The school anticipates that some of its faculty members who are now on military leave may return during the year. California law protects the rights of these teachers to the job which they left although the substitues have been employed for he full school year. It is expected and hoped that the school will grow fast enough during the year to make it possible to

Pearl Harbor Report

The American people have finally been given a fuller, but not complete report on the Pearl Harbor tragedy of nearly four years ago.

It is interesting to note that, rightly or wrongly, the Army and Navy officers who made the investigations felt that high Washington officials were as much responsible for our unpreparedness for the attack as were Admiral Kimmel and General Short.

But the whole story has yet to be told. Secretary of War Stimson has withheld that part of the report dealing with construction work at Pearl Harbor which was begun early in 1941 and which, it is said, would have greatly strengthened our defense against attack, if it had been completed. The charge has been made repeatedly in the past year or two that criminal negligence on the part of the American Army colonel in charge of this work delayed its completion. Suspicion has also been aroused by the fact that the contractor was a German national who was speedily pushed through the process for American citizenship only after he received the contract and against the protests of naturalization officials.

Secretary Stimson insists that these facts had no bearing on the Pearl Harbor disaster. If so, why conceal the information about it?

President Truman is right when he says that the entire Nation is responsible in a degree, but we should have all the facts so that we can intelligently demand such changes as will be necessary to prevent a repetition of that ghastly fiasco.

Congress Back at Work

Nearly a month after the end of the war Congress has sauntered back to Washington to begin consideration of some of the most momentous problems in our history. The speed and intelligence with which these issues are settled will largely determine how smoothly the Nation will swing back into a peacetime economy and how quickly it will achieve real prosperity.

Tax reductions, the draft, adequate machinery for the disposal of surplus properties, recapture of billions of dollars appropriated but not spent on the war program; changes in the G. I. Law; public works, and dozens of other items confront the nation's lawmakers.

Congressional committees had already done some preparatory work. The "full employment" bill hearings attracted most attention but activities of many other committees, if less spectacular, are hardly less important.

Congress has a tremendous task before it, not only to pass constructive laws, but to block legislation for the benefit of special interests.

China-Russia Pact

Uncle Joe Stalin has taken a good deal of the wind out of the sails of some of his persistent critics by not only refusing to back the Chinese Communists but in signing a pact with Chungking. Whether he has an ace up his sleeve, we don't know, but on the face of it the treaty with China looks like a sincere willingness on his part to cooperate with Chiang Kai-shek in bringing order out of chaos in the Far East.

Chiang's hand has been greatly strengthened by this accord with Russia, but it remains to be seen if he can bring the Chinese Communists into line and prevent the threatened civil war from engulfing China.

We have long since come to the realization that the Chungking government is anything but truly democratic, but with all its faults it appears to be the best instrument for the establishment in China of more tolerable social and economic conditions. There is also reason to believe that under peacetime conditions many of the objectionable practices of the present regime will be eliminated or modified.

A stabilized China would contribute enormously to the political and economic progress of the Far East and would help preserve world peace.

Consumer Goods

The American people are following the progress of consumer goods production with as much interest as they would the World Series. The latest box score shows that electric irons, clocks and heaters are now being produced and should appear in substantial numbers by the end of October; electric ranges by December; nylon stockings by Thanksgiving or Christmas; radios—several million by the end of the year; washing machines and refrigerators and vacuum cleaners within a couple of months; ample supply of films by the first of the year; sheets, towels, men's shirts and shorts by December 1; table and floor lamps by Christmas; pots, pans, small garbage containers by the first of the year; glass ovenwear early in 1946. Things are looking better all the time.

S. M. Junior College Opens Fall Semester On September 10th

San Mateo Junior College opens its Fall semester Saturday, September 8, by giving entrance examinations to new students. The tests start at 9 in the college auditorium. Registration day will be Monday, September 10, with the students and faculty joining for an assembly at 9 o'clock, followed by registering, with faculty members assisting in making out the programs. Class work starts on Tuesday.

Bill Miramontes, student president, and his council officers have already worked out a student program of Fall activities.

During the past summer, the college carried on a number of summer classes, and among the students were many veterans from Dibble General hospital. More of the Dibble men are expected to enroll next week, President Charles Morris states.

Also, during the summer, the college had an active adult program and several of the sections, including the garden program and the community canning center, are still operating.

General Urges All AWOL Army Men To Return Quickly

Major General William E. Shedd, commanding general, Ninth Service Command, today urged all Army personnel now absent without leave from posts, camps and stations in the eight Western states to immediately return to their respective stations.

"Prolonged absence without leave, coupled with an intent not to return, makes a soldier a deserter, and upon conviction subjects him to a dishonorable discharge," General Shedd warned.

"Japan's surrender offers absentees a timely opportunity to square themselves with the Army before their offense becomes more serious," the general said.

Pointing out that desertion in wartime is an offense that is never forgotten until the offender is apprehended, General Shedd declared that "deserters become hunted men and public enemies until they are caught. Every military policeman in the country is on the lookout for them.

"In addition," he said, "their fingerprints and identification are sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, state, county and city law enforcement agencies all over the nation. The search never ceases, because the statute of limitations does not apply to deserters in wartime.

"The Army does not like to discharge any soldier dishonorably," General Shedd declared, "because such a discharge leaves a life-time blot on the man's record and if the dishonorable discharge results from conviction for wartime desertion he is deprived of citizenship."

AWOL soldiers sometimes hide successfully for long periods, General Shedd said, but are eventually apprehended. When an AWOL soldier returns voluntarily, however, the Army takes the fact into consideration in deciding on disciplinary action to be taken.

Moth Preventive

To discourage moths and carpet beetles, use the moth spray, flakes or balls generously, but avoid putting the flakes or balls directly on the woolens, as they have been known to fade garments. Since fumes from the flakes or balls go downward, the best place for them is on a high shelf, or in a cloth sack hung from a high hook on the ceiling. Woolen clothing placed in sealed or closed garment bags can then be hung in the closet.

Children's Vision

Surveys of children of pre-school age indicate that about one out of five has an appreciable error in vision.

NEWS OF OUR MEN and WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Sergeant Leslie Grieg Writes Of Five-day Tour Through Germany

Sergeant Greig was one of two chosen from his company along with 15 others from other companies who had the privilege of going on a five-day tour of about 500 miles to view the ruins as well as the beautiful country through that portion of Germany.

The following are two letters sent to his parents Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Greig, 638 Hanover street, describing the tour:

14 July 1945.
Germany.

Dear Mother and Dad:

Well I'm finally back again. It was a wonderful trip, but it tired me out a little. I'll need another week to recuperate. If you don't mind, I'd like to tell you about it. Eight o'clock Monday morning, ninth of July was the time we left from Amberg. Within an hour's time we visited the second largest cathedral in Germany at Regensburg. The exterior of the building was finished in a beautiful medieval style. The church itself covered almost a square block. The inside was disappointing however, for it was very drab and plain in contrast to most European architecture.

We didn't stay long, for we had a lot to see, and not much time to do it. The trip was a whirlwind affair, like everything else in the Army. We didn't get to spend as much time as we wanted at any of the places. We continued on our way and ate dinner at the 4th Armored Division Headquarters; about 1 o'clock we stopped at Freising, Germany to take pictures of another church. This one was just a reverse of the one at our first stop. It was dull and uninteresting outside, but was beautiful inside. Aside from being 740 years old, it was one of the most beautifully painted in the tour. I took a couple of time exposures there, and I hope they come out okay. It didn't take us long to get to Munich.

A very interesting place, not only because of its beauty and culture, but because of its ruins and destructions. Five hundred plane raids on that great city were not uncommon. Aside from the railroad yards, the entire downtown business district was destroyed. Blocks upon blocks of department stores were demolished. Hitler's Munich Beer Garden, where he originated the Nazi Party, and was later almost killed in an explosion, was an interesting spot, for it has now been converted to an American Red Cross Donut Dugout. We bivouiced in the city limits, and spent a few hours that night roaming around through the town. I took a picture of a square with ruins in the background, it should turn out okay.

We were now in what was once Bavaria. I believe it is the most beautiful part of Germany. Rolling fields, grassy plains, high, jagged mountains, cool sparkling streams winding through bush, green valleys, all blending to form a picturesque and inspiring countryside. Of the many lakes in that part of Bavaria, one is of especial interest, for it is an overly large, icy-cold, body of water with two islands in the center. On one of these islands in the center of Lake Chiemsee, is located the Castle of King Ludwig the II. Ludwig had been insane with power and was eccentric with his love of beauty. The castle wasn't designed as a medieval abode with towers and torture chambers and moats and walls, it was simply, but grandly, a mansion with 41 rooms. However, this enormous home had been only partially completed at the cost of 30 million dollars. It is impossible for me to describe or try to put down in words, the tremendous and overwhelming effect the beauty of the 14 completed rooms has upon me. To one who has never seen it, I can easily see it would be hard to believe, but try to imagine the gold leafed ceilings, the world's greatest paintings on the walls, the cool pleasant hush of heavy carpets, the expansive view from the windows, all of that and more, and you might get a faint idea of the immensity of the place. I just can't do it justice in these few words, I wish I could. At the water's edge on the mainland is a German hospital that has now been taken over by American Medics, and made into a convalescent hospital for soldiers. This lake is a wonderful spot for a rest center, because of the swimming, boating, fishing and just plain loafing. The American nurses do a lot to boost the morale by being there.

We spent the night at the hospital, and left early in the morning for a resort town near Austria called Bad Reichenhall. Unfortunately bad weather had set in and the rain and fog made our trip in a ski lift uninspiring. It was 4,000 feet to the top of the climb, every once in a while an opening would clear in the clouds, and we were able to see the little town at what seemed miles away. If the weather had been clear, I'm sure we would have seen a wonderful view, but as I said before, we didn't have time to wait for it to clear.

We loaded into the trucks and started for the Berchtesgaden, the "Hitler Hide-out." About 1:30 we pulled into the little resort town of that name, and arranged for billets for the night. In a little while we started for the settlement where Hitler and Goering had built their homes. Halfway up the mountain was Ober Salzburg. The name given to the group of buildings which once was the home of Hitler, and the home of Goering, some S. S. Troopers barracks, and the homes of a few other "big shots" of the Nazi Party. This once might have been a scenic spot, but now, like a lot of Germany, all is "kaput." The place must have taken a terrific pounding, for nothing, I mean nothing, was left standing whole. Goering's home was a pile of rubble. The home of Hitler was just a shell. We walked through Hitler's house, or rather what was left of it, and tried to find souvenirs. Everything removable was gone. Doornobs, waterfaucets, handles, pieces of tile, all were taken. I knocked a chip out of his fireplace for my souvenir. There was still another place left to see at Berchtesgaden, and that was the "Eagles Nest," up a long, narrow, treacherous road we traveled in heavily laden ¾-ton trucks. Our 2½-ton trucks were too large and clumsy, to travel through numerous tunnels, and around dangerous curves. Four miles up the road to a parking area and we unloaded. Behind heavy brass doors was a tunnel bored into the mountain. About 12 feet high and 300 feet long, was this redish pink stone-lined passageway. About every 15 feet, there were openings that let out warm air, so that no matter how cold it was outside, the tunnel was always a pleasant room temperature. At the end of the passageway was a grotto about 25 feet

IE SHIMA—A permanent monument which, according to C. P. Reynolds, president of Monument Builders of America, will stand as a memorial through the ages, has been unveiled in honor of War Correspondent Ernie Pyle on Ie Shima. Men of the 77th Division of Infantry, U.S. Tenth Army, took time out to erect monument on exact spot where Pyle was killed by enemy machine gun fire.

Light Up for Youthful Seeing

Did you fall asleep last night, halfway through your reading? Did the print seem to disappear right through the paper? Do not blame it all on the hard day you had at work or that you think you may be getting old. The chances are that the lighting was to blame!

This is a good time of the year to check on the lighting in your home. Get rid of blackened bulbs, root out and replace the small-sized bulbs that have been put into the lamps you read and work by. And when there are students doing homework at night, make certain they have the best of study light for concentrated eye work. Good light for study is so vital because—one of every FIVE children in grade schools suffers from impaired vision and TWO out of every FIVE college graduates have defective sight. Light up for youthful seeing as fall days darken into winter.

The Bell System—the largest source of Radar for our fighting forces

This is not surprising for Radar development and production stems from the same roots that produced and continue to nourish this country's telephone system.

Radar, the instrument which enabled our land, sea and air forces to spot enemy targets through darkness, smoke or fog, was one of the outstanding fighting instruments of the war.

Two years before Pearl Harbor the Government asked Bell Telephone Laboratories to put its wide experience and knowledge of electronics to work to help perfect Radar as a military instrument. From then on the Laboratories cooperated closely in the Radar program with the National Defense Research Committee, with Army and Navy specialists, and with scientists of Great Britain.

The Western Electric Company, manufacturing branch of the Bell System, became the Nation's largest supplier of Radar systems. One type it made was universally used by B-29's in the Pacific for navigation, target location and high altitude bombing. Another played an important part in aiming the guns on our warships.

If you're waiting for a home telephone, it helps a little to know that Radar is one of the reasons. For years telephone manufacturing plants were devoted to war needs.

Judge Rapsey Grants Continuance In Colma Hog Ranch Litigation

Attorney Joseph J. Bullock counsel for the Colma hog ranchers facing charges of operating without permits, was granted a continuance of the time for his clients' pleas before First Township Justice of the Peace R. A. Rapsey.

Bullock informed the court that he had just taken the case and was not prepared to enter pleas. He said he had not as yet had time to look up the law on the case.

Judge Rapsey then continued the case until September 20, at 10 a. m.

Deputy District Attorney Fred Wyckoff said that charges against four of the ranchers have been dropped; one because J. Isola of the American Hog Ranch died since the charges were filed July 27.

The other three ranchers, G. and R. Agraesti and D. Malatucci, all have gone out of the hog raising business since charges were brought Wyckoff said.

Assemblyman Harrison Call of Redwood City was previously retained by the ranchers as counsel. Judge Rapsey issued 41 warrants on 21 complaints July 27 charging that the hog ranchers were operating without permits.

At that time, Wyckoff said that the ranchers were also operating during the past fiscal year without licenses because they could not receive county health certificates.

Watch Those Tires! They're Hard to Get

September tire quotas for the 16 counties of the San Francisco OPA district are substantially the same as those for August, District Rationing Executive A. B.Hawley announced today.

The September quota of new Grade I passenger tires is 49,884, an increase of 297 from the August figures.

The quota of small truck tires is 6627, a reduction of 108, while the quota of large truck tires increased slightly, September figures being 5134, or 328 over the August quota.

"The tire situation is still critical," Hawley said, "and all tire users should protect serviceability by having them recapped while they still can be saved."

Army Milk

Fresh milk is in the army ration for the first time since the Revolution.

To Draft or Not . . . .

Congress is really on the hot seat on the draft question. From one side they are being urged by the parents of teen age boys to stop inductions immediately. On the other side they are being asked by families of the men serving overseas to do all they can to hurry them home.

Meanwhile, the Army insists that it needs a sizeable force for occupation duty. This means, say military officials, that the draft must be continued to provide replacements for servicemen now on foreign soil.

President Truman has taken the side of the Army in favoring a continuation of the draft, but he suggests a two year limit on the time of service. There are many indications that Congress will not go along with him. Many of the solons have expressed their determination to bring compulsory military service quickly to an end.

Those who favor a continuation of the draft say that sufficient numbers of men cannot be obtained through voluntary enlistments. That may or may not be so. It might be tried for a few months—but not on the old basis. Service in the armed forces should be made more attractive through greater opportunity for enlisted men to rise rapidly in the ranks. They should also be offered educational opportuntites and types of training that would prove of value when they return to civilian life.

All this will cost us money, but this added expense would be well worth it if it eliminated the need of the draft and helped to hasten the return of our veterans from overseas.

Trouble in Argentina

The long troubled waters of the Argentine are steadily growing darker. Insistence within that nation that the Peron-Farrell regime yield to free and open general elections is becoming more intense every day. The Colonels are also finding the going tougher in their relations with other nations—the United States in particular. The recent speech of Nelson Rockefeller, former Assistant Secretary of State in charge of South American affairs, in which he condemned the Buenos Aires government was the tipoff that even those men in Washington who gave the Colonels every benefit of the doubt have finally awakened to the realities of the situation. Also the appointment of Sprule Braden to succeed Rockefeller was significant. Braden has been our ambassador of Argentina and is a severe critic of its present regime. Eventually the people of the Argentine are going to catch up with the Colonels. And there will be something doing when they do.

Sweet Revenge

From what we know of Lieut. General Jonathan M. Wainwright, the hero of Corregidor, he is not a vengeful man. But it must have given him a satisfaction fully equal to that of General Douglas MacArthur to witness the surrender of the Jap war lords who so arrogantly stalked the Pacific in their triumphant days following December 7, 1941. Wainwright's assignment in early 1942 when he took over on Bataan when MacArthur was ordered to Australia was one of the hardest and bitterest any Army officer ever had to face. Yet he fought through to the very end and finally surrendered with a quiet dignity to the overwhelming strength of the enemy. Like General MacArthur, General Wainwright has also "come back." He now shares in the fruits of victory which his magnificent defense of Corregidor helped to win.

Radar Spies

The British government has just revealed that in 1937 the British radar pioneer, Sir Robert Watson-Watt, and his wife, "disguised" as tourists, and with the usual tourists' paraphernalia, including a telescope that looked like a flashlight, made a secret spy trip to Germany to determine whether the Nazis had developed a radar system of their own. They visited ancient churches, taking particular interest in the view from the steeple, where Lady Watson-Watt sketched landscapes while Sir Robert poked around in the churchyard looking for the "graves" of the revered grandparents of a "friend." Their trip was made at a time when British radio-location researchers were preparing for a large-scale trial of their devices and when disturbing rumors had come in about the existence of radar experimental stations in Germany. On their return to England, however, the "tourists" were able to report that they had seen none of the equipment of a radar station, with whose appearance Sir Robert was so familiar.

Ickes To Stay

The "will-he-or-will-he-not" discussion in Washington which has centered around the "Old Curmudgeon" has been quieted—temporarily at least. President Truman has announced that Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes will remain in his cabinet. Ickes is the only member of Roosevelt's original cabinet of 1933 who has served continuously. He is scheduled to go to London shortly to negotiate a new Anglo-American oil treaty. Capitol observers point out that "Honest Harold" may drop out of public life, however, at his own request when he finishes this assignment. He is 71 years old, independently wealthy, and is said to be anxious to retire. But knowing him as we do we'll have to wait until we see it before we believe it.

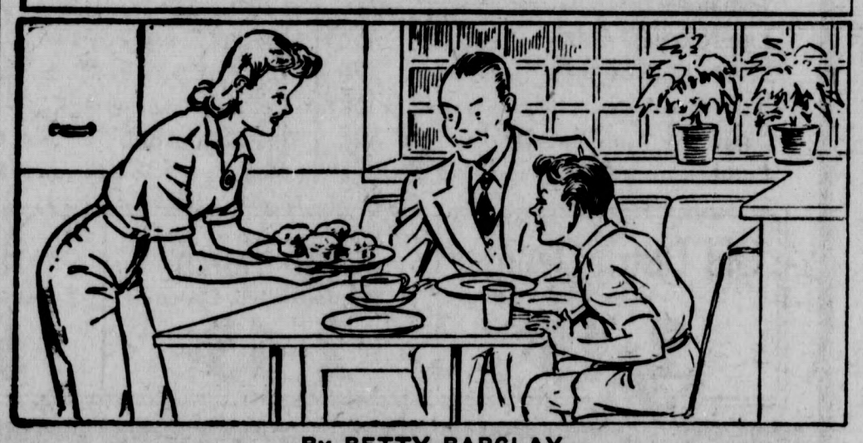
Asparagus Stalks

The flavor of the butt ends of the asparagus stalks is not sufficiently good to warrant canning them. The more tender portions, however, when cooked in the boiling water left over from the canning process are satisfactory for immediate serving or for soup. Overmature stalks are also good for soup.

Prehistoric Ivory

Ivory on your piano keys could have come from prehistoric animal tusks. Considerable ivory is supplied from vast stores of mastodon and mammoth found in Siberia and elsewhere. Siberian deposits have been worked for nearly two centuries and the supply seems to be as inexhaustible as a coal field.

Quick Tricks for Quick Breads



By BETTY BARCLAY

Bread is the "staff of life"; toast a familiar item at breakfast. But how often would you order plain bread or toast in a restaurant or hotel, if flaky biscuits or hot muffins were on the menu?

So how about remembering this preference and turning up more often with hot biscuits and muffins on the home table — for breakfast, brunch or supper? Even if you are a war worker, these delicacies may be prepared in a jiffy — by using a muffin or biscuit mix prepared in advance and stored in the refrigerator for ready use.

Note the good points in the following recipes which highlight the above suggestion. They provide special Sunday morning treats for the family. They're real finds for the housewife who likes to serve hot breads more often at weekday breakfasts, because they're such time savers that she can fit them into a busy morning schedule. They supply calories needed for the morning's tasks. Moreover, the cereals used in these recipes give you a head start on those important factors, iron, niacin and thiamin — which you need every day.

Bran Flakes Muffin Mix

- 3 cups sifted flour
- 3 tablespoons plus 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup sugar
- ¾ cup shortening
- 6 cups 40% bran flakes

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift into large bowl. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add flakes and mix well. Makes about 9 cups mix.

Place in glass jars or crockery bowl; cover lightly with cloth or plate to allow circulation of air. Store in refrigerator or other very cool, dry place. Keeps well for 3 weeks.

To Make Muffins: For 7 large muffins, measure 2 cups Muffin Mix into bowl. Add 1 well-beaten egg and ⅔ cup milk, then mix only until dry ingredients are dampened. Fill greased muffin pans ⅔ full. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 15 minutes, or until done.

Raisin Bran Biscuit Mix

- 1⅓ cups sifted flour
- 2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- ⅓ cup shortening
- 1 cup raisin bran

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Cut in shortening; add bran and mix well. Makes about 2¾ cups mix.

Place in glass jar or crockery bowl; cover lightly with cloth or plate to allow circulation of air. Store overnight in refrigerator or other very cool, dry place.

To Make Biscuits:

Turn Biscuit Mix into bowl. Combine 1 slightly beaten egg and ½ cup milk; add to mix, stirring until soft dough is formed. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 30 seconds, or enough to shape. Roll ½ inch thick and cut with floured 2-inch biscuit cutter. Brush tops with milk. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450° F.) 12 minutes or until done. Makes 15 small biscuits.

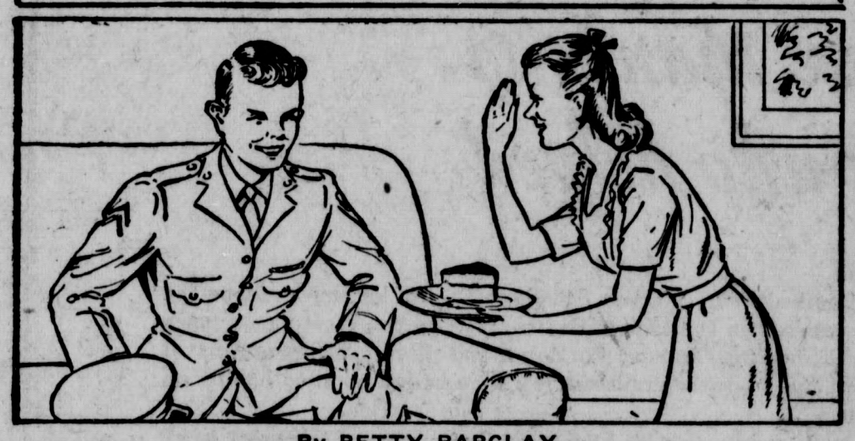
Courtship and Cakes



By BETTY BARCLAY

When your grandmother's beau turned up with a bar of chocolate, if this swain's reward was a piece of cake, it's dollars to doughnuts that it wasn't baked by the young lady but by her mother. For in those days of a pinch of this and a little of that — it took years of painful trial and error to develop that sixth sense for cake making.

But today's romantic young woman is perfectly capable of baking her own cakes — and why not? For the twin keys to success in cake making are now available. The super-softness and fineness of cake flour have been available for some years now — but cake flour has been united to a cake mixing method which is streamlined to meet the needs of every housewife — not to mention the needs of hopeful maidens artfully wooing their man with culinary skill.

Bring the romance to its boiling point with one of these cakes which you can make before you can say "Jack Robinson."

Speedeluxe White Cake

PREPARATIONS

Have shortening at room temperature. Grease two deep 9-inch layer pans, line bottoms with waxed paper, and grease again. Start oven for moderate heat (350° F.). Sift flour once before measuring.

Measure into sifter:
2½ cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1¼ cups sugar

Measure into bowl:
⅓ cup vegetable shortening
Measure into cup:
1 cup milk
1½ teaspoons vanilla

Have ready:
5 egg whites, beaten to meringue* with
½ cup sugar

* For meringue, beat egg whites with rotary beater (or at high speed of electric mixer) until foamy. Add ½ cup sugar gradually, beating only until meringue will hold up in soft peaks.

NOW THE "MIX-EASY" PART

Mix or stir shortening just to soften. Sift in dry ingredients. Add liquid and mix until all flour is dampened; then beat 2 minutes. Add meringue mixture and beat 1 minute longer. (Count only actual beating time. Or count beating strokes. Allow at least 100 full strokes per minute. Scrape bowl and spoon or beater often.)

BAKING. Turn batter into pans. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 35 minutes. Spread Chocolate Party Frosting between layers and on top.

Note: Mix cake by hand or at low speed of electric mixer.

Chocolate Party Frosting
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup hot water
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons shortening

Melt chocolate in double boiler. Remove from boiling water. Add sugar, salt, and water and blend. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each. Add shortening, a tablespoon at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition.

ORIGINALITY at school, as anywhere, brings its rewards. CBS' Susan ("Aunt Jenny's Stories") Douglas proves it with a multi-colored Glentex scarf which she drapes over a basic dress. Then ends of the scarf are gathered and pinned into folds under her belt.

Back to School In Clothes— With Grade "A" Looks!

Limber up all your notions about sloppy, ill-fitting school clothes. Today's modern miss is a fashion-wise, trim, young miss, who knows that invitations for dances, football games and such, depend to a great extent on the impression she makes on her way to school, in school, after, and during all the rest of her waking hours. Of course very few families can afford to hand out a blank check for school wardrobes and so the smart girls all over the country are making their own! They're choosing patterns that are simple to sew, simple to follow and ones that are designed to fit our free and easy American way of life. These clothes, all designed by Simplicity, are boon companions for every occasion, and what's more, they're perfect two-timers, for they'll look as wonderful in town, sans a coat, as they will all through the cold weather, snuggling prettily under your winter bunny.

NEWS OF OUR HOME-TOWN MEN IN UNIFORM

high with a circular base about 25 feet in diameter.

The ceiling arched to meet in the center, large brass doors sealed a shaft, until an elevator came to floor level up, I don't know how many feet, to the inside of the "Eagles Nest," and lead into the waiting room. Fortunately, this home wasn't touched by bombs. I neglected to count the rooms, but the drawing room where all the diplomatic meetings were held was intact. Easy chairs were around a large circular table, (which once held up a map of the world). There was another large fireplace with a big easy sofa in front of it. I took a picture or rather had a picture of me taken in Hitler's favorite easy chair, in front of the fire-place. The dining room wasn't as large as I thought it would be, but the kitchen was excellent. Everything there was done in white and black. Electric stoves, mixers, and all the accessorries. You would have enjoyed yourself there. Well Mother I'll have to close now, there is still plenty to write about, but I'll tell about it in my next letter. I'm still in good health. Hope Dad is improving.

Your loving son,
Leslie.

July 15, 1945.
Germany.

Hello Again, Mother and Father:

Well this is Sunday night again, so I think I'll write and let you know about the rest of the trip.

In my letter of yesterday, I closed telling about the Berchtesgaden. We stayed there the rest of the afternoon and slept in our billets overnight. 6:30 rolled around in what seemed an incredibly short time, but we rose and dressed and loaded up. Our breakfast was scheduled in Salzburg, Austria, so we were anxious to get under way. The short distance of 12 miles was soon covered. So we arrived about half an hour before schedule. Instead of waiting in the trucks, most of us took a quick walk around the town, which was a famous town, as Mozart was born there. Two of my friends and I hiked up to the old wooden shack where Mozart had written the Silver Flute. For the price of two marks we would have been able to go inside, but since it was before 8 o'clock it wasn't open.

For breakfast we had prunes, cereal, one fried egg, toast and coffee. It was served in a German hotel, cooked by German cooks and served by German girls. What a pleasure after "K" Rations. That morning was spent in visiting a castle overlooking Salzburg. I swapped a chocolate bar for a small loaf of bread. It was saved for lunch. The castle was fairly interesting for it was the first medieval one that I had been inside. A German guide took us around rattling off his song and dance in German, while we read it off a translated pamphlet.

Some narrow, circular, winding stairs took us up to the torture chamber. Two rollers were still left in the ceiling, where victims had had their wrists outstretched, and strung up by ropes through the rollers. A 150 pound block of stone was weighted to their feet. If the victim did confess he was mercifully dropped through a hole in the floor to another stone floor 24 feet below. If he refused to confess, he was taken to another room and chained to a wall. Then a stove was lighted two feet from him. Gradually growing red hot. The victim would confess or burn alive. Of course there was a more pleasant part of the castle, where the court was called the Gold room. It was a big hall with blue walls and ceiling with shining brass balls spaced in diamond shapes about two feet apart. It must have been pretty at one time, but it's not stylish in 1945.

We left a little before dinner time and proceeded on to Linz, on the Danube river. Linz was supposed to be a European city untouched by war, but our first impressions proved contrary, for the outskirts of town, and of course the railroad yards had been hit. However, as we went deeper into the heart of the city, we saw comparatively little war damage. A bridge across the Danube had been blown out, but was rebuilt by our Army engineers. There wasn't much to see there, but it was interesting, not only because of the Danube, but that some of the stores were off limits. I swapped a couple of chocolate bars for a typical Bavarian pipe. I'll send it home soon. In the evening I went to an Austrian variety show, which was excellent. The theatre hadn't been bombed, so it was pleasant to sit in theatre seats and watch performers on the stage with regular backgrounds. I really enjoyed myself.

We went to a couple more towns in Austria before we headed back, but I won't bore you with them, for they didn't have much of interest. Tassen was one of them. It had a church with the largest organ in Europe. The organ was beautiful, but on the shady side of the church, so I couldn't take a picture.

All in all mother, we had a swell time on the trip. It was swell to be away from the company for awhile, and then it was a wonderful opportunity to see a bit of Germany. I think we covered more than 500 miles on the trip.

Hope I haven't bored you to death,

Your loving son,
Leslie.

1945 War Chest Campaign to Open Drive October 1st

California's 1945 War Chest campaign to finance vital war-related and community welfare agencies will be conducted from October 1 to October 29 with the state quota set at $22,000,000 it was announced recently by Ralph T. Fisher, of Oakland, president of the state organization.

This year's campaign will be designated as the "Victory Drive" and will have as its slogan: "The war on want has not been won." The campaign will be carried on in 1200 California communities as part of the National War Fund drive to raise $260,000,000 for humanitarian services at home, to make possible comfort, recreation and entertainment for members of the armed services and the Merchant Marine, through USO and United Seamen's Service, and emergency relief for war victims of the Nazis and Japanese in liberated countries.

Making an appeal for contributions and calling for volunteer workers throughout the state, Fisher pointed out that "while the military victory has been won the work of our humanitarian agencies and the members of our armed services is far from over. As the President's War Relief Control Board has stated, the needs are as great today as if the war had not ended."

It is thought that reduced work opportunities will encourage more boys and girls to remain in school. It is also probable that some who have dropped out to work may now return to complete their high school education.

The school has advised all students to attend on the opening day, emphasizing the importance of the work done in the first few days of each term.

An opening assembly will be held at 8:30 a. m. Following the assembly homeroom meetings will be held for the purpose of registration. The remainder of the day will be used for regular meeting of classes on a shortened schedule.

Bacteria Works Fast

Specialists of the department of agriculture point out that bacteria go to work just as soon as the milk reaches the pail. While the milk is warm, the bacteria multiply very rapidly. But as the milk becomes cooler they gradually slow down until at 45 or 50 degrees, they increase very slowly.

Our sincere thanks to all of you who helped

When Japan bombed Pearl Harbor, Southern Pacific became perhaps the most strategic railroad in the United States. Serving the West Coast ports of embarkation from San Diego to Portland, and more military and naval establishments than any other railroad, we were called upon to handle an enormous load.

We were able to handle this load successfully because of the great work of railroad men and women up and down the line, and with the help and cooperation of thousands of people not actually working for the railroad.

Now the war is over. The job is done. But we of Southern Pacific will never forget the way people stood by us when the task sometimes seemed bigger than our railroad.

We send our sincere thanks—— to the Army, Navy and Government authorities for their sympathetic understanding of our problems.

— to the shippers who cheerfully put up with delays so that more vital war freight could go through on time, and who cooperated in many ways to conserve equipment.

— to our passengers, for their good-natured acceptance of crowded trains and other wartime discomforts.

— to the thousands of people who stayed off the trains to make room for service men and other essential travelers.

— to the press and radio which understood our operating difficulties and kept the public informed.

We do not know how quickly Southern Pacific can convert from war to peace. Soon transports will be landing thousands of war-weary men at West Coast ports, and many more must be brought back from Europe. These men will want to get home as quickly as possible. We intend to do our best to carry them in the comfort to which they are entitled. This job comes first, of course.

Meanwhile, we are planning luxurious new streamlined trains, new travel comforts and refinements in passenger service, and improvements in freight service. We intend to go forward aggressively with the West, earning our right to serve you solely on merit and performance.

A. T. MERCIER, President

Surprise Party Is Given For Mrs. D. C. McKisson

The Senior Young People's Society of the Grace Church of the Nazarene gave a surprise birthday party in honor of Mrs. D. C. McKisson, class teacher of this group at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hawthorne, 954 Hanover street, Friday, August 31.

She was presented with many beautiful hankies and several other personal items.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. C. Spriggs, Mr. and Mrs. Don Pritchard, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lemon, Reverend and Mrs. D. C. McKisson, Vernon Smith, Mrs. Velta Williamson, Mrs. Alice Redman, Mrs. Helen Edminster, Mrs. Grace L. Wheeler, Mrs. Florence Shipcott, Mrs. J. Marquez, Miss Lorraine Williamson, Miss Mary Lou Smith, Angelyn and Charlene Morgan, Hazel Hawthorne and Joyce McKisson.

Coffee, cake and home made ice cream were served.

Girl Scouts Bid Farewell to Camp Until Next Year

With school in the offing the Daly City-Colma Girl Scouts say "good-bye" to day camp, at Camp Mattrup, east of Colma.

With seven days during the month of August devoted to day-camping everyone was reluctant to have the venture terminate. Children as well as adults had an enjoyable time.

Mrs. J. Calvin taught pyro-craft which included the weaving and braiding of belts, lanyards, bracelets and lapel fobs.

The girls also learned to make coat-hangers and many other things by lashing sticks together. The fundamentals of out-door camping were also learned different ways of making camp fires, cooking out of doors, fire prevention, camp clean-up and the actual out-door work all Girl Scouts should know.

The average attendance of girls each day was about 25.

Mrs. Muriel Pabst, Ruth Rowley, Hilda Heagney, Mildred Ventura, Louise Buttle, Cecelia Hale, Martha Petty and Mrs. J. Calvin were the leaders attending camp.

Thursday, August 28 was the last day at the camp and many mothers, sisters and brothers were visitors. The girls had a wiener roast and later entertained their visitors with songs, recitations and a play.

All who attended camp are eagerly looking forward to next year and day camping.

Mrs. America Meets Post-war Problems

A new sugar stamp became good on September 1 for purchasing five pounds of sugar. It is sugar stamp No. 38, in War Ration Book Four. But the housewife should use her sugar sparingly, supplies are still very tight. Stamp No. 38 will be good for four months, until December 31. The Department of Agriculture tells us that there is no prospect of improvement in the civilian sugar supply, this year. Stamp No. 36 expired August 31. Sugar stamp No. 37 was not validated because many home canners used it by mistake last year.

Fifty more red points were validated for the purchase of rationed meats, fats, fish and dairy products on September 1. The new stamps, each worth ten points, are L-1 through Q-1. Red stamps which expired on August 31 and are no longer good, are Q-2 through U-2. Of course, blue stamps are now a thing of the past. All processed foods are ration free.

* * *

Mrs. America will have an easier time with her red point budgeting this month, as many point values of meat and fats have been lowered one to three points a pound. Butter is now 12 points a pound instead of 16 and margarine is 12, down from 14. Canned milk is point-free, and cheese point values have been cut in half. Almost all cuts of beef, lamb, veal and pork are lower. For example, T-bone steaks were lowered from eight to five points per pound, and leg of lamb was lowered from six to four.

* * *

Mrs. America's post-war pocketbook will be protected from rising prices of essential items on her shopping list. Not only will price controls continue on food and clothing, but they'll be put on the many consumer goods she's been waiting to buy after the end of the war. Washing machines, ironers and aluminum kitchenware, for example, which will be back in the stores this fall, will sell at 1942 price levels, and manufacturers must tag the pots, pans, skillets, washing machines and ironers so Mrs. America will know just what the ceiling prices are.

* * *

New automobiles, too, will have ceiling prices. It's not yet been definitely determined just what the prices will be, as each manufacturer figures his own, based on materials costs, wages, etc. But Mr. and Mrs. America will probably have to pay little or no more for most 1945 or 1946 models than the present ceilings for 1942 models. And if you're thinking of buying a used car, remember that they have ceiling prices also. Both dealers and individuals must observe the ceilings. Your War Price and Rationing Board can tell you the ceiling price for a particular car that you're interested in, and any overcharge should be reported to the Price Panel.

* * *

Incidentally, you may do what you wish with your gas ration stamps . . . and fuel oil coupons, if you live in an area where fuel oil has heretofore been rationed. They're of no value at all, now that rationing for these two items has ended. Gasoline ration coupons will not be needed to obtain tire purchase certificates. Tires are being rationed on the basis of occupational driving needs, and eligibility does not depend on motorists' "B" and "C" gasoline rations.

Roaches Like to Hide

To combat the roach we must know something of its habits. They are nocturnal and go into hiding during the daylight hours. They prefer to hide in quiet, darkened and sheltered places. They hide near sinks, drainboards, behind wall cabinets, under loose door and window trim, cracks and holes in the walls, along water and steam pipes, beneath flooring, in wall spaces and in dark food storage rooms and bins. Knowing the hiding places of these pests, a permanent method of control is obtained by eliminating these hiding places by sealing the openings.

Nutrients of Spices

Most spices rate low in nutrients, but paprika and chili are reported to be exceptions. The former, a red spice from a mild-flavored pod pepper, rates high in vitamin A. Chili powder, now 10th on the list of spices, according to the amount consumed, also offers plenty of vitamin but lacks the C that is present in fresh and canned chili peppers.

Stop Gas Pipe Leak

To stop a leak in a gas pipe temporarily, moisten common yellow soap and press it over the hole.

Patching Wallpaper

In patching wallpaper, match the pattern, cut patch larger than damaged area, then tear edges of patch irregularly. Place patch face down on a piece of glass or other smooth surface and scrape the edges thin with a sharp knife or razor blade. When pasted in place the thin edges will blend with the paper on the wall, and will not be noticeable.

More Power Needed

More power, by one-third, is required to pull a mower with a dull sickle and poor guards than to pull a well-adjusted mower that has a sharp sickle. The University of Wisconsin found that the draft of a 5-foot mower in good condition was 455 to 478 pounds. With a dull sickle and bad guards, the draft was 531 to 718 pounds.

"GOON GUN" TAKES TO THE SEAS—Very soon you'll hear a lot about the 4.2-inch mortar, more affectionally known to combat Chemics as the "Goon Gun." It is shown mounted on an LCVP, somewhere in the Pacific. This famous rifle mortar, manufactured by Chemical Warfare Service, won fame in all theaters. Now it is doing duty protecting invasions from sea waves. Firing at least 20 shells per minute—each shell weighs 25 pounds—enemy mortar positions are knocked out when the combat Chemics go into action on the landing craft. The shells contain either high explosives or white phosphorus.

Marsh Mosquitoes

Salt-marsh varieties of mosquitoes, of types known to be malaria carriers, have been found in large numbers as far inland as sections of Indiana, Illinois, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, according to a report by Herman L. Fellton, U. S. public health service. He points out that salt water for their breeding was provided by discharge from oil wells in most cases.

Treating Fence Posts

Nondurable fence posts, such as the lower grades of green pine, can be made relatively durable simply by soaking the basal end in a wooden trough or half a barrel containing a solution of chromated zinc chloride. Steeping the entire post in a tank or soaking both basal and top ends in the solution has also given good protection against termites, fungi, and the destructive organisms that normally attack untreated wood.

Separating Egg Yolk

When separating the whites from the yolks of eggs, if a speck of the yolk falls into the whites, touch the speck with the end of a clean cloth. The yolk will stick to the cloth.

Producing Family Food

Throughout the world it takes two families to produce enough food for themselves and an additional family. In the United States one farm family produces enough food and other products for itself and four other families.

Human Eyes the Best

Human eyes are more versatile and flexible than the eyes of animals and birds, says the Better Vision insitute. Human eyes have both near and far vision, whereas other creatures have a limited range of visual proficiency. The sharp eyes of an eagle, for example, are not designed to read a book.

Keep Rain Out

If you have a garment you would like waterproofed, place it in soapsuds from warm soft water and a good laundry soap. Squeeze out the excess soapsuds and dip the garment in a solution of two ounces of alum to a gallon of water. Stir the garment, squeeze out the excess water, and hang up to dry, without rinsing. It will be waterproof.

Salt Checks Fires

Common salt is still a favorite remedy for checking chimney fires. It is thrown on the fire in stove or furnace to smother the chimney blaze. Less soot will gather in pipes and chimney if dry fuel is used and fires are not checked too closely at night.

Home of the Sardines

The Mediterranean island of Sardinia gave sardines their name. Known there as pilchards, it was the place where the small fish were prepared by soaking in brine, drying, and frying in olive oil.

Waxy-Maize

Waxy-maize, a newly developed hybrid corn, is proving a satisfactory substitute for tapioca and may become highly important as a source of starch and for industrial uses such as the manufacture of mucilage, wood glues and certain paper and textile coatings.

Reversible Pitch

Reversible pitch propellers that can stop our heaviest bombers in one-half their normal landing roll and can slow a single-engine fighter down to 250 miles per hour in a vertical dive are emerging from the experimental stage. A propeller in reverse pitch does not change the direction of its rotation. Instead the angle of the propeller blades is reversed, thus throwing the air blasts forward.

King Ruled Three Years

From 1532 to 1535 Munster was dominated by the Anabaptists, rejectors of infant baptism. John of Leiden, leader of the sect, made it part of his short-lived kingdom of Zion, naming himself as sovereign. Difficulties between citizens and martial bishops kept Munster in turmoil. Opposition to church rule of public affairs eventually cost the city almost all of its liberties. Citizens got control of local administration in 1803 when the domain of the bishopric was transferred to civil use.

Air Valves

Don't neglect to have worn out or obsolete air valves replaced on radiators of steam heating plants. Poor air valves are one of the most common causes of complaints about poor heating. It is a complaint that can be avoided if air valves are checked by a heating contractor once a year.

Chinese Three Syllables

Chinese is limited to words of one to three syllables. The 400 vocables constitute the only one-syllable words. Other words are formed by joining vocables with a hyphen. Thus, the words meaning "east" and "west" joined by a hyphen mean "thing."

State Confab

John Hay, when secretary of state, was conferring one day with Minister WU of China. He was asked later about the conversation. "I talked and talked until the minister was hazy," replied the diplomat, "and then the minister talked until I was woozy."

Cleaning Spots

Be miserly with cleaning fluid or water — barely dampen a wad of cheesecloth, then tamp with unevenly placed strokes to avoid a ring. It's a flecking motion, a feather touch. The idea is to work quickly. Blow on the area to hasten drying. Never rub a spot, because a rubbed area highlights just like a spot even if it isn't. Pat dry with a clean dry cloth. Quick, airy hang-up helps avoid a ring.

Washing Wicker

When washing wicker furniture add one tablespoonful of household ammonia to one quart warm water. Apply with a brush, rinse with a cloth wrung out of clear lukewarm water.

Washington Borrowed Money

One of the richest men in the country, George Washington had to borrow 600 pounds for his journey to New York to assume the office of President.

Early Movable Type

Fifty years before Guttenberg printed the Bible, the Koreans had developed movable type.

Emydian Institute Plans to Initiate New Members

At the regular meeting of Emydian Institute No. 154, YLI held Tuesday, August 28 at Holy Angels hall, plans were made for the initiation of new members at a meeting to be held Tuesday, September 25.

Plans were also discussed for a picnic to be held Sunday, September 16 at San Mateo Memorial park, for members, their families and friends.

July and August birthdays of members were celebrated. Those having birthdays during these two months were: Betty Cattori, Frances Flannagan, Inez Micheli, Romilda Grondona, Mary DeNegri, Joyce Veit, Mary Faretti, Eda Guisti, Nilda Majeski and Norma Conti. Each of the celebrants received gifts and refreshments were served.

Industrial Area

Tokyo is one of Japan's greatest industrial areas. Before a recent move to decentralize industry it had more than 40,000 factories of all sizes, but the average did not employ more than ten workers. In peacetime a third of the factories processed foodstuffs, and another third made metal products, machines, and tools. There also were many textile mills, chemical and woodworking plants.

Trick Vase

Do you by chance have an old kerosene lamp in the attic or basement? It might be either clear glass with pressed designs or painted flowers, or it might be a metal and glass combination. Try removing the wick and shadeholder and arranging a mixed bouquet in the adequate opening. This lamp base becomes a vase, lovely in shape and the right size for your table or mantel.

Indians Had Model Law

To curb visiting relatives who overstayed their welcome, the Paiute Indian tribe of Fort Bidwell had this law: "Visits from relatives or friends shall be permitted, but shall be limited to 14 days at one time, and shall not exceed 30 days in any one calendar year."

Ascorbic Acid

As with spinach, the amount of ascorbic acid lost in cooking depends a great deal upon the amount of water used. To retain the maximum amount of vitamins, the cabbage should be cooked in a small amount of water until just tender.

Hogs Enjoy Eating Hay

Hogs particularly like bright alfalfa or clover hay, and feeders have found good protein value in such feed. Brood sows make use of legumes twice a week to advantage. Young pigs jump around with delight when they get a ration of this kind.

Fish Patrol on Iheya Shima

Marine Privates First Class Raymond E. Cranford (left) of Greensboro, N. C., and Joseph H. Prunier of Linwood, Mass., watch with interest as an Iheya Shima native cleans a fish haul. The two Leathernecks accompanied a native fishing party from the island in the Okinawa group when the Iheyans went out to increase a dwindling food supply. (U. S. Marine Corps Photo)

Bonneville Dam Project

Bonneville dam controls the water of the Columbia river for generation of power and improvement of navigation facilities. The highest single-lift lock in the world permits ocean-going vessels to travel upstream as far as The Dalles, Ore., 187 miles from the Pacific ocean. The army engineers, who constructed and operate Bonneville dam, also made provisions to perpetuate the Columbia river's famous salmon runs. Scientifically designed fish ladders provide easy passage over the dam to spawning grounds on the upper river and its tributaries.

Catching Young Pigs

A hoop and net makes a handy device for catching small pigs up to 30 pounds in weight. Take a piece of three-eighths-inch round iron, three feet or a little longer, heat and bend into a hoop, allowing about four inches of each end to project for insertion into a shovel handle with a heavy ferrule.

Chinese Odd Customs

In all Chinese drinking games, the loser instead of the winner drinks. A wolf is the emblem of cupidity and rapacity—just as on Broadway. Chinese shake their own hands when greeting each other.

Origin of Pennsylvania

Pennsylvania was not named after William Penn, its original Quaker proprietor. Penn wanted to call the state Sylvania, which means the land of woods and forests, but King Charles II of England insisted on honoring Penn's father, Admiral William Penn, in the naming of the new colony. And so the colony was designated Pennsylvania.

Body Paint

Automobile bodies are each flooded, in modern treating methods, with more than 4,000 gallons of solution before they are painted, it is said. This process produces on the metal surface a protective phosphate coating, which prevents corrosion, and makes the paint stick better when applied. First introduced in 1936, when 850,000 bodies were treated, over 2,000,000 are undergoing the treatment this year.

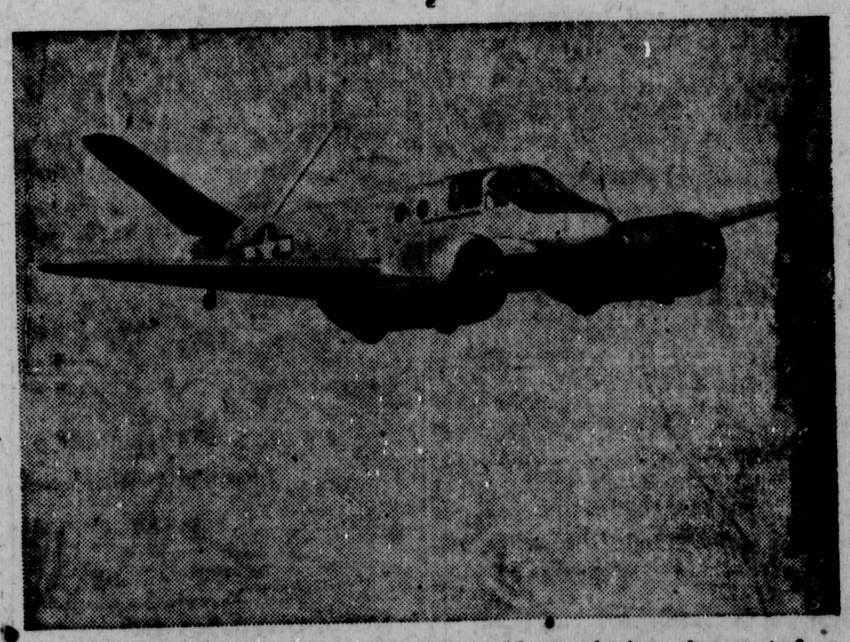
Artificial Insemination

Big scale artificial insemination, through cooperative groups, was first inaugurated in the United States under the direction of the New Jersey experiment station, with a predominance of registered Holstein-Friesian bulls being used.

Drapery Pattern

In a room with figured walls, plain draperies look well, particularly if their color repeats a dominating color in the figure of the wallpaper or matches the background color of the wall.

A New Butterfly Comes to Life



WICHITA, KANSAS — Airwise residents during the past few months have been startled at the sight of a queer-looking airplane with a tail that resembles the half-opened wings of a butterfly. It flies without either horizontal or vertical tail surfaces and has a V tail with only two elements and so was nicknamed "Butterfly" tail. The unique design originated at the Beech Aircraft Corporation and their purpose in building this experimental unit is to investigate the possibilities of simplified structure, elimination or reduction of compressibility effects at high speeds, simplified controls, and the effect on control, stability and handling ease which may be offered by such a radical departure from conventional construction.

The airplane is a modified AT-10 Beechcraft plywood transitional trainer, which has been converted to a flying test unit for various advanced ideas. Test pilots state that the "Butterfly" tail renders excellent control and stability characteristics at all speeds.

NEWS OF OUR MEN and WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Second Lieutenant Richard C. Pearson left Sunday, September 2 for Fort Sam Houston, Texas, after spending a six day furlough at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. Peterson, 463 Templeton avenue.

Upon his arrival at the above mentioned camp he will be given his new assignment.

Staff Sergeant Warren Rushing, husband of Mrs. Kathryn Rushing, 154-a Vista Grande avenue is one of six members of the Adjutant General's department, 89th Infantry who has been awarded the Certificate of Merit for outstanding performance in combat. The awards were presented by Major General Thomas D. Finley, commanding general of the 89th division.

The 89th is currently processing USA bound troops in the Normandy Assembly area in France.

Aboard the USS North Carolina Off Japan (Delayed)—John M. Griffith, 18, private, first class, USMC, son of John M. Griffith, 286 Hillside boulevard, Daly City, is serving aboard this battleship which is part of the powerful Pacific Fleet engaged in occupying Japan.

Under the operational control of Admiral William F. Halsey, USN, Commander of the 3rd Fleet, the North Carolina, one of the "glamor" ships of the fleet, assembled with 11 other battleships, 17 aircraft carriers, five escort carriers, 20 cruisers and more than 290 other U. S. ships to carry out the first stages of the occupation of the Japanese home islands.

Minter Field ,Bakersfield, Calif., August 30—The Air Medal with one Oak-Leaf Cluster has been presented at a parade and review ceremony here to First Lieutenant Arnold L. Panella of 477 Frederick street, San Francisco, a combat returnee now stationed at this Army Air Forces Training Command base.

Awarded by direction of the President, the decorations were formally presented to Lieutenant Panella by Colonel R. C. Wriston, Minter Field commanding officer. They were for meritorious achievement while participating in sustained operational flight missions in the Southwest Pacific area.

"These operations consisted of bombing missions against enemy naval vessels and shipping," the citation said. "The courage and devotion to duty displayed by Lieutenant Panella during these flights are worthy of commendation."

Lieutenant Panella, son of Mrs. Anna J. Panella of the Frederick street address, is a graduate of Jefferson Union High school in Daly City. Before entering the army in June, 1942, he operated Panella's Union Oil Service Station at 6200 Mission street, Daly City.

Toxicity of Insecticides

Experience has shown that it is not possible to predict the toxicity of a compound to any insect on the basis of tests made against another insect. Progress in developing new insecticides would proceed much more rapidly if the initial testing could always be carried out on the specific insect to be controlled.

Domesticated Water Buffalo

Water buffaloes are domesticated as beasts of burden in India and Malaya. They are being used by U. S. troops in India.

War Veterans Given Preference In Federal Jobs

The United States Civil Service Commission has put into operation a comprehensive program designed to provide returning war veterans and displaced Federal workers with the maximum possible opportunity for employment in the Federal service. The program is adapted to the prospect of a contracting government service in which the number of job opportunities is sure to be sharply reduced now that hostilities have ceased. Returning war veterans and Federal employees whose war jobs are ending are clearly entitled to priority in consideration for filling such positions as will still need to be filled.

Applications for entry on the commission's lists will now be accepted from disabled veterans of World War I and World War II and their wives and widows who may be entitled to 10-point preference and from veterans of World War II, whether disabled or not, who file within one year of discharge or completion of hospitilization. Applications will also be accepted from Federal employees being discharged because of reduction of force who are not hired by other government agencies still needing workers, provided the applications are filed within 60 days after being laid off. Except from these two groups of persons, no further applications will be accepted unless the needs of the service later make it absolutely necessary to open examinations for some critical positions to general competition.

Fleece Lining

Fleece lining of gloves will become soft and clean if properly washed. Turn gloves inside out and whip up dry suds. Use a toothbrush for chasing dirt from between fingers. Let the fleece dry thoroughly, away from direct heat. Then fluff up pile with a soft brush.

Food Values

Cheese and cottage cheese supply calcium, just as does milk; raw cabbage, green pepper and cauliflower are good sources of vitamin C just as orange juice and tomato juice; and fish, poultry and variety meats as liver, heart and sweetbreads, can substitute for meat.

Remove Kinks

To get the kinks out of a hay rope, drag the rope behind the auto for about a half mile and put it back in the barn as it comes out of the road. There will be no kinks.

Place Mats

Here's an inexpensive way to make place mats for company or home meals. Cut dull finish oilcloth with pinking shears into mats 12 by 18 inches, center runner 12 by 36 inches, straight edged or scalloped. Paint the pinked edge with a border of oil paint and monogram it.

Rx How much should you pay?

● The pricing of prescriptions should never be a guessing game. And it isn't, here. To the accurate cost of ingredients, we add the time of a skilled registered pharmacist, plus a determined percentage for overhead (small, because of our large volume). Then a modest profit. This fair, uniform price assures satisfied patrons. Why not bring your next prescription to this "Reliable Prescriptions" store?

German Wood Bullets

Wooden bullets, which the Germans are said to have used at Cherbourg when hard pressed for ammunition, and which they presumably might use again, are practically invisible in X-ray pictures of the wounds they make, Dr. Norman P. Henderson reports in the British Medical Journal. The wooden bullets, said to be effective up to about 100 yards, break on solid structures such as bone, and the scattered fragments are not likely to be located by X-rays.

Wash Hose Daily

Washing hose between each wearing is a "must" for anyone with fastidious habits. Even though they do not seem soiled after a single wearing, perspiration will have settled in the fibers in addition to the "bagginess" so common to rayon hose—both of which make the sudsy dip a necessity. A lukewarm suds should be followed by a thorough rinse in lukewarm water, after which the hose should be rolled in a towel to absorb moisture and hung up to dry.

El Carmelo Parlor To Take Part In Parade Sept. 9th

El Carmelo Parlor No. 256, Native Sons of the Golden West, will participate in the victory parade in observance of Admission Day, to be held Sunday, September 9 in San Francisco. The Parlor welcomes this revival of the Order's yearly celebration and has made reservations for their headquarters in the Druids hall at 55 Page street.

The Parlor feels that it is well up in the ranks of the Native Sons. This year in a membership drive it ranked second in gain of membership and has almost doubled its previous membership under the grand leadership of President Herman Christen.

Other officers of the parlor are as follows: James Mullen, past president; George Romiguerre, first vice-president; William Ottoboni, second vice-president; Bernard Lycett, third vice-president; Frank Donofrio, marshal; Al Koskela, inside sentinel; Ernest Micco, recording and financial secretary; Al Parmisano, treasurer.

The Parlor has also started a building fund for the purpose of erecting and maintaining a hall in Daly City. Chairman of the building fund is Anthony Ricci.

No Winking Fish

Owners of fish aquariums frequently have been amazed and delighted to find that the tiny South American armored catfishes, so popular as scavengers, turned out to be "winking" fish. But the winking is only an illusion, says the Better Vision institute. Fish do not have eyelids and therefore cannot wink. The aquarium scavenger catfish looks as though he is winking because the eyeball rolls downward, thereby concealing the pupil. The exposed gray part of the eye appears, through the glass, like a moving upper eyelid.

Non-Magnetic Steel Helmets

The American combat helmet, manufactured by army ordnance, is made of non-magnetic steel to avoid interference with the use of compasses in patrolling and other reconnaissance work.

Strong People

People with heavy bony ridges underneath their eyebrows usually are strong, with well-developed muscles.

Many Dyes From Coal Tar

More than 8,000 kinds of dyes, many of bright color, are obtained from black coal tar.
